UNIVERSITY OF CAMBRIDGE EQUALITY OBJECTIVES 2012-2016

Introduction by the Vice-Chancellor

As an organisation with a global reputation for excellence, the University is committed to developing and maintaining an institution where staff and students from all backgrounds can flourish. Our Equality Objectives reflect how we put that commitment into practice.

The introduction of the Equality Act 2010 brought with it a requirement for public bodies to identify and publish Equality Objectives, setting out their priority areas for progressing equality over a four-year period from April 2012. This requirement aligned with work that was already underway in the University. The development of our Combined Equality Scheme (CES) in 2010 reflected internally the same motivations that were behind the new legislation – namely, bringing together previously disparate ways to progress equality for different groups into one harmonised and focused policy.

Our development process for the CES involved a thorough review of all qualitative and quantitative information that had been gathered over time through surveys, consultation exercises, data analysis, specific schemes, action plans and strategies, and other relevant evidence and guidance to enable common areas to be identified. These formed the basis of the core activities and commitments outlined in the CES, which has been amended to include all protected characteristics under the Equality Act, and has been formally adopted by the University.
This process also enabled the University to identify some equality concerns that would benefit from being addressed further. These issues, which had been captured through the mechanisms described above, continue to be relevant to the organisation and have been incorporated into our Equality Objectives.

The University has identified four priority areas of focus:

- To increase diversity, and in particular gender diversity, at senior levels of the organisation
- To maintain our commitment to excellence in our equality and diversity practice through implementation of the CES, in line with legislation
- To address evidence of disadvantage in student attainment and encourage inclusive teaching and learning practice
• To encourage increased levels of disability disclosure and promote a culture of positive awareness in relation to disability

It is a requirement of the Equality Act that Equality Objectives will bring about demonstrable change and improvement. Specific action plans for these priorities will be set annually with regard to how the University intends to achieve progress in these areas on an incremental basis over the next four years. These plans will be the responsibility of the relevant governance body for each objective.

Professor Sir Leszek Borysiewicz
Vice-Chancellor, University of Cambridge
Legislation

The Equality Act 2010 requires public institutions to have due regard to the need to:
- eliminate discrimination, harassment and victimisation
- advance equality of opportunity
- foster good relations between people who share a characteristic and those who do not

The Equality Act’s Specific Duties require applicable public bodies, including the University, to publish specific and measurable Equality Objectives, initially by 6th April 2012 and then at least every four years, setting out how progress towards outcomes will be achieved. The identification of objectives needs to have included consideration of available equality information and a process of engagement and consultation.
Objectives are required to be outcome-focused with regard to their impact on people, enabling progress to be clearly evidenced.

Evidence

Evidence, reports and information considered in the identification of the Equality Objectives are listed in Appendix 1 at the end of this document. This process of robust review was initially instigated by the development of the University’s Combined Equality Scheme and extended for the identification of Equality Objectives. As such, the process of compiling the Objectives involved analysis of information from a period of approximately ten years.
Consultation, Engagement and Good Practice

The University has established a robust consultation infrastructure which is constituted of the following networks, with respective reporting lines:

The University's E&D Consultation and Governance Infrastructure

- General Board
- Council
- HR Committee
- Education Committee
- Gender Equality Group
- E&D Committee
- Athena Swan Governance Panel
- E&D Standing Committee
- Equality Assurance Assessment Review Group
- E&D Consultative Forum
- Chaplaincy Development Group
- Senior Gender Equality Network
- Interconnect
- BME Staff Network
- Disabled Staff Network
- LGB&T Staff Network
- Women's Staff Network
- Faith & Belief in Practice
- E&D Partners
- Student Links
All networks were consulted in the development of the University’s Equality Objectives, at the E&D Consultative Forum meetings held in May and December 2011. The Forum includes representation from the Colleges that constitute the collegiate University of Cambridge.

Draft objectives were submitted for consideration to the University’s Education, Equality & Diversity and Human Resources Committees, the Joint Committee on Disability, the Gender Equality Group, and shared with the staff of the Unified Administrative Service. Formal bodies with trade union representation, including the University & Assistants Joint Board and Joint HR Projects Group, were also consulted in the development of the objectives.
Finally, good practice from various sources including the Russell Group Equality Forum, the Equality Challenge Unit (ECU), Stonewall and the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC), was considered in order to contextualise and inform the development of these objectives.

Reviewing and Reporting

Reporting on the University’s Equality Objectives will be undertaken annually as part of the Equality & Diversity Information Report, which will outline the steps taken to implement and progress the objectives. The next Information Report is due to be published in January 2013 in line with legislative requirements and will incorporate quantitative information on staff and students, as well as evidencing equality analysis. Relevant qualitative information based on consultation and engagement with protected groups will be made available on the University’s Equality & Diversity web pages, at http://www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/hr/equality/.
GOVERNANCE: GENDER EQUALITY GROUP (GEG)
Evidenced by Equality & Diversity Information Reports and Equal Pay Reviews

The University aims to increase its diversity at senior levels and ensure this is reflected in its governance structures.

The University aims to address the senior gender gap by increasing the proportion of women staff in senior academic and administrative roles, with a particular focus on training, recruitment, promotion and the decision-making processes of the University, and to improve the gender balance at all levels in academic and administrative units.

The University seeks to further develop and reflect a culturally inclusive environment for work and study, though enhancing engagement with its BME staff and students.

Inclusive Practice for Staff and Students

Diversity Networks

- Develop diversity network annual priorities to support the progression of this objective for all applicable protected groups
- Secure positive and open relations through dialogue and joint working between different faith/belief groups and those of no faith, to develop shared understanding

E&D and Network Steering Groups

- Chaplaincy Development Group Face to Faith programme
Promotion of Equality and Diversity

Mainstreaming events
- Work in collaboration with the Office of External Affairs & Communications (OEAC) on joint projects, e.g. IWD, BHM, LGBTHM; incorporate equalities-related activity into OEAC programmes and activities as appropriate, e.g. Festival of Ideas
- Monitor termly calendars for joint projects (E&D)

Data and Information Provision

Addressing information gaps
- In line with the requirements of the Equality Act 2010, seek to gather qualitative and quantitative information for all protected characteristics through appropriate mechanisms
- Monitor and respond to external equality data requirements; adapt systems as necessary to meet
- HR and Education Committees
- HR Analytics, Student Statistics - reported in annual E&D Information
| | national changes for all protected characteristics, e.g. HESA, UCAS, REF

• Recommendations to be taken forward during 2011/12, with priorities and action plans to be determined by the GBEC E&D Standing Committee
• E&D to incorporate into activities for students, 2013/14
• Review date 2014/15; seek to align the review with the EAA processes for all protected characteristics where there is relevant available data |
Academic guidance
- GBEC E&D Standing Committee will keep under review all protected characteristic groups and develop specific equality guidance in liaison with E&D, in relation to academic functions as necessary
- GB Education Committee & E&D

Asperger’s Syndrome
- Examine the findings of the DRC’s Asperger Syndrome (AS) project for recommendations of best practice to support AS students
- Report to GBEC E&D Committee with proposed service improvements as appropriate
GOVERNANCE: E&D/HR COMMITTEES, GBEC E&D STANDING COMMITTEE, ADMISSIONS COMMITTEE
Evidenced by Disability Resource Centre Annual Reports and Equality & Diversity Information Reports and Admissions Widening Participation Reports

The University will aim to encourage increased levels of disability disclosure and information on support provision for staff and students, by promoting a culture of positive awareness and understanding of disability related matters.
